

MODERN HEBREW UNLOCKS THE COMMENTARIES

[TRUE HDS RESEARCH STORIES]

It was 4:50 and Widener closed at 5.

Something about the translator's choice of words made me think Soloveitchik was alluding to a line of Talmud in his Hebrew original. Good thing I took Modern Hebrew! I was able to find my place in the original, verify my hunch, copy the page, and get out of the library before closing.

Study Modern Hebrew!

Find it in the HDS Course Catalogue, or e-mail Prof. Irit Aharony at aharony@fas.harvard.edu

AND...

MODERN HEBREW IS FUN! [TRUE STORY]